1. Entrepreneurship: concepts and characteristics

An entrepreneur is a person who identifies a business opportunity, mobilises resources, and takes on the risk of organising and running a venture in pursuit of profit and growth. Commonly cited entrepreneurial characteristics include: innovativeness, risk-taking (calculated, not reckless), initiative, persistence, and a strong internal drive for achievement.

Entrepreneurship is distinguished from simply "being self-employed": an entrepreneur typically seeks to grow and scale a venture, often introducing some element of innovation, rather than merely replicating an existing income-generating activity at a fixed, small scale.

Sample of the practice examination (Question One of Five)

Note on format. The full paper includes a complete practice examination laid out the way a real KASNEB ATD paper is laid out — timed, five compulsory 20-mark questions — so you can rehearse the exact exam format before sitting the real thing. This is an original practice paper, not a reproduction of any actual KASNEB past paper.
