1. What is human resources management?

Human resources management (HRM) is the function responsible for managing an organisation's workforce effectively — attracting, developing, motivating and retaining the people needed to achieve organisational objectives, while ensuring fair, legally compliant treatment of employees.

Sample of the practice examination (Question One of Five)

Note on format. The full paper includes a complete practice examination laid out the way a real KASNEB CS paper is laid out — timed, five compulsory 20-mark questions — so you can rehearse the exact exam format before sitting the real thing. This is an original practice paper, not a reproduction of any actual KASNEB past paper.
